Hearts In Motion Janet Hilliman

Hearts in Motion is a page turner that stresses realness and authenticity void of religion with more of a stress on relationship with God. It narrates the spiritual journey of twenty something year old Genesis Garrison, a Public Relations Executive, single mom and stripper turned minister who decides to scale down her busy life to pursue a graduate degree in Theology. What Genesis didn't know after obeying that tugging in her spirit, is that God will use this time away to take her on a journey of self-discovery etched in His love for her. Genesis has more baggage that she cannot side step. She struggles with deception, soul ties and her unchained emotions that show up in her relationships especially how she deals with the death of her best sister-friend and the betrayal of another. Her drive to appease her flesh causes her to slip into the arms of a married professor at Ebenezer Theological College, Dr Dexter O'Bannon; a deep threat to her vow of celibacy. Still yet, what is it about the former call girl turned minister that catches the eye of the son of the Chairman of the Board of ETC; Abner Preston Jr. the handsome business man and lawyer who comes to ETC to focus on God from his distractions. God's love corrects, covers, restores, repositions and prepares her to give herself freely to the man who wins her healed heart.
